

Aknowledgement certificate

The European Commission Directorate–General for Regional and Urban Policy (DG REGIO), is pleased to certify that the Sustainable water management from a Spanish mining project has taken part in the European Union’s Communities for Climate (C4C) initiative.

C4C was launched by the European Commission in response to the urgency of climate change towards empowering and supporting local, community-led climate actions across 11 EU Member States. By joining in this initiative, the local community benefitted from support and technical guidance provided by community facilitators and thematic experts to better equip them in addressing climate challenges. They also connected to other communities facing similar challenges, benefitting from peer-learning and networking.
